This paper has the usual format of a talk given by Paul Erdős— discussion of progress on old problems and presentation of new problems from various branches of combinatorics. In particular, Erdős discusses recent progress on five of the 20 problems he presented at the 1989 meeting in Catania and then presents nineteen more problems—some old and some new—and includes references and partial results.

L.Lesniak Foster (Madison)

Classification:
05-02 Research monographs (combinatorics)
00A07 Problem books
11B75 Combinatorial number theory

Keywords:
problems; combinatorics